The faculty are still in flux, with a number of term faculty that are staying only a year or two. Currently, we are searching for a tenure track faculty in Piloting, Air Traffic Control, and Aviation Maintenance. Once those faculty are hired, it is my recommendation that those faculty be trained directly on assessment and be placed in that role to reduce strain on the current faculty working on specific projects.

The faculty should be commended on the high level of achievement even with the consistent shifting in faculty. As stated, the goal has been to focus on high quality instructors and faculty, and they have achieved that. The faculty should also be commended on the focus of industry needs and training that leads to career success.
